ELBA, ALA. MAY 27, 1910.

Halley's comet has come out with a brand new tail, almost as long as the one lost a few days ago.

The Montgomery Advertiser says that pension checks for Confederate soldiers will be out less than half in the July payments. The pension fund collected will not allow a larger payment. It is pretty tough on the old men and women, but there seems to be no help for it.

The importance of baseball in these United States was brought prominently before the public this week when congress adjourned at an early hour to see a game in Washington. And then Vice-President Sherman dropped politics and politicians to shake and chat with Ty Cobb, the champion batter.

The world's Sunday School convention had to deal with the "color line" and, as usual, the colored brother caused a row. Maybe after a while the colored brethren will learn to flock by themselves.

New Orleans has gone after the Panama canal with a train load of delegates, including all the state legislators and the city officers. The Crescent city is certainly the best place to celebrate the opening of our big ditch, and we hope she will get all the government aid needed.

We never had much from our government when prices for farm produce was below the cost of production, but now that farmers are getting something like fair prices, all the earth, including the government, is trying to pull the prices down. All the folks who object to paying well for what they eat have the privilege of digging their stuff out of the ground.

The loafer is always with us. In every town, at every crossroads store, these idle, lazy young men and boys are found. With nothing to do, and no desire to do anything, they are contented to fight flies and whistle soft pine, just as long as the "old man" will furnish them free board. We guess that, like fleas and flies, they are here for a for good purpose, but only the all-seeing eye of God can discover it—and he has to use a microscope.

Crops generally throughout the county are in good fix so far as their cultivation is concerned, but both cotton and corn are below the average in size, and the stand of cotton not up to the average. The rains Monday improved conditions considerably.

The following is sent of from Washington: Having won his fight in the Alabama primary for reelection Senator Bankhead now holds the record for having been in office more years of service if he lives than any other member of the upper branch of Congress. His present term does not expire until March 3, 1912 and the second term runs until March 3, 1919. The Senator served ten years as a member of the House of Representatives. Should he live until 1919 he will have rounded out, therefore, thirty-two years in the House and Senate, and this would be a record equaled by comparatively few men who have figured in the national halls of legislation. According to the sketch of Senator Bankhead in the Congressional Directory, he will be 63 years of age in September next. In the event he has the good fortune to live to the end of his second term in the Senate he will be 77 years old, or about five years younger than the late Senator Morgan whom he succeeded.—Florida Democrat.

Bad Negro is Killed.

Deputy Sheriff Dick Riley shot and killed Sam Smith, a bad negro, in the Baton street neighborhood, near River Falls, last Monday noon. The deputy sheriff had a warrant for the negro's arrest on a charge of assault to murder. The negro worked in the woods and always carried a shotgun with him. The deputy sheriff called upon the negro to throw up his hands. Instantly the negro grabbed his shotgun and attempted to use it, but the deputy sheriff was too quick for him. The negro shot five times, death resulted immediately.—Andalusia Star.

SEYLER ON TRIAL.

Hundreds Attracted by Atlantic City Pier Mystery Case.

About the picturesque little court house of Cape May, a heavy crowd of special guards were placed to frustrate any attempt at violence against William Seyler, the defendant in the mill-murder pier mystery, accused of murdering his sweetheart, Jane Adams, last February.

Brought by special train, auto and horse vehicles of every type, hundreds of persons came here from Atlantic City and the surrounding country to attend the trial. The day was the holiday, most of the visitors bringing their lunches as if it was a picnic.

So great was the influx that but a portion of the crowd could squeeze into the court house.

Seyler is accused of having beaten eighteen-year-old Jane Adams to death and thrown her remains into the Atlantic from the end of the great pier at the height of a storm on February 4. They had gone to a dance at the pier with young Orvis and Alvin Adams.

Leaving the hall, the four walked down the pier. The girl drove the younger couple back. William Seyler later returned alone a few days after he disappeared with his brother. A week after the night of the date Jane Adams' remains were found on the beach.

In the head was a gash, which according to physicians, caused her death before she was thrown into the water.

WITH FOREFATHERS EDWARD VII RESTS

Millions Witness the Funeral Pageant of Monarch.

Edward the Peacemaker was laid to rest Friday in the tomb of his forefathers at Windsor, while all the world gave homage to his memory. Nine kings with bent heads followed the casket about through the streets of London, through a lane of 55,000 troops bowed upon their arms.

Princes of Royal Blood.

Following the king were princes of royal blood gathered from all parts of the world and special envoys appointed by the great republics to participate in the most imposing funeral ceremony the world has ever seen. Among these latter was Theodore Roosevelt, special ambassador from the United States. Along the route of the funeral procession from Westminster to Paddington station, which the remains were borne on a gun carriage, fully 500,000 persons were bunched behind the troops. Stray light over them, and yet rising dominantly, was a pitiful reverence, but following the king was a spirit that hailed the new ruler, George V, son of the late monarch.

A bright sun shone down on the splendid procession. A thunderstorm, which had been threatening in the day gave way before the bright rays and from the spectacular standpoint conditions were the best that could be desired for the ceremony.

The march of the troops and the burial of the monarch were the two features of the day. The king's body was borne in a state coach, which was drawn by a team of four white horses, and was followed by the gun carriage, which was drawn by a team of four white horses.

dread having to prepare an elaborate dinner because they are not sufficiently strong to stand over an intensely hot coal range. This is especially true in summer. Every woman takes pride in the table she sets, but often it is done at tremendous cost to her own vitality through the weakening effect of cooking on a coal range in a hot kitchen.

It is no longer necessary to wear yourself out preparing a fine dinner. Even in the heat of summer you can cook a large dinner without being worn out.

Large Bequest by Will of Isaac C. Wyman, of Salem, Mass.

By the will of Isaac C. Wyman, of Salem, Mass., died in the probate court, the bulk of his estate, which is estimated at nearly $10,000,000, is left to the graduate school of Princeton university as a memorial of Mr. Wyman's "lasting affection" as the will phrases it, for his alma mater.

John M. Wyman, of Salem, and then Andrew West, of the Princeton Graduate school, acting as trustee, are given almost absolute power in disposing of the property, which consists largely of real estate holdings. Mr. Wyman died here at the age of 82. The will also directs that the trustees erect a chapel as a memorial to Mr. Wyman's parents. The chapel is to be large enough to hold "hushed" meetings of Sunday school classes.

CAUGHT IN DRAGNET.

Four New "Fast Wire" Operators. Government Said to Have Indicted.

A Washington Special says: The secret of the department of justice was dropped among the bookstoppers again Monday, with the result that four additional names have been added to the twenty-nine "fast wire" operators already indicted, and two additional true bills returned against the Cells and Altonville forces, who are said to operate under the name of the Standard Stock and Grain Company, of Jersey City.

The four men who were indicted for the first time are Samuel J.

Adler, of New York; C. A. Tills, known in New York as "Cat" Tills, from his habit of signing the telegrams with his initials; William Fox, and E. M. Browning, now living in Baltimore.

One of the indictments charges a conspiracy to commit an offense, while the other charges the men with operating a bookstopping in Washington.

Heirs of George Washington May Receive $200,000,000.

Washington, A famous claim against the government in which the heirs of George Washington would receive $200,000,000, may be settled by the action of the house committee on private land claims, which is expected to report favorably to the house bill to that effect. There are several heirs of Washington who combined in making the claim, which has been pending through several congresses.

George Washington was entitled, under the Virginia law, to some 25,000 acres of land as a recompense for his military services, but he declined to accept it, and took, instead, warrants for 3500 acres of land in Ohio. This tract was located in the

HEAVY BURDEN ON PEOPLE OF COUNTRY

Sensational Speech by Foss on the Tariff.

Washington, Representative Eugene N. Fox, the newly-elected democratic representative from Massachusetts, a former republican and a leading manufacturer, signalled his beginning of active participation in the house with a sensational speech on the Payne-Aldrich tariff.

He denounced the republican policy of protection as an unmitigated evil, flayed the republican leaders, declared the recent revision of the tariff to be "a deliberate bucco game from start to finish," pronounced in favor of reciprocity and demanded an "extra session of a new congress" at the earliest opportunity to revise the tariff.

"The people are indeed demanding protection," said Mr. Foss, "but the protection they are demanding is protection—from the Payne-Aldrich tariff."

The speaker announced himself as favoring the creation of a tariff commission, but he stressed the point also composed of non-partisan men, whose report would be made direct to congress rather than to the president.

RESOLUTIONS

Upon the Death of Dr. H. C. Boyd, Adopted by Riverside Lodge No. 156, Knights Pythias.

Whereas, it has pleased the Father of Mercies in His inscrutable wisdom to remove from our midst our brother, Hansford De Witt Boyd; and

Whereas, our departed brother was for many years an exemplary member of our order, exhibiting in his daily life the principles and tenets of Pythianism, and was a generous friend, thoughtful of the welfare of his brothers, just and loving in his dealings with all mankind; and

Whereas, in his work as a member of the order and as the holder of the highest office in our lodge he endeavored himself to all knights with whom he came in contact and worked zealously and untiringly for the good of the order.

Therefore, be it resolved by the officers and members of Riverside Lodge No. 156, Knights of Pythias, that we deplore the death, and to us apparently untimely demise of our beloved brother;

Resolved, that we cherish his memory, and that we take to ourselves the many noble lessons to be learned from his Pythian life, with the purpose of emulating his example;

Resolved, that we sincerely sympathize with and extend our condolences to the helpmeet, children and other relatives of our departed brother;

Resolved, that this resolution be spread upon the Records of our Lodge, that a copy be sent to the widow of our departed brother, and that the local and Troy press be furnished with copies for publication.

Wanamaker's Advice.

"If there is one business on earth that a quitter should leave severely alone, it is advertising," says John Wanamaker. "To make a success of advertising one must be prepared to stick to it like a barnacle on a boat's bottom. He should know before he begins that he must spend money—considerable of it. Somebody should tell him that he cannot hope to reap results commensurate with his expenditure early in the game. "Advertising doesn't jerk" it pulls. It begins very gently at first but the pull is steady. It increases day by day and year by year, until it exerts an irresistible power. It is likened to a team pulling a heavy load. A thousand spasmodic, jerky pulls will not budge the load, while one-half the power exerted in steady effort will start and keep it moving. There are three ways to make advertising pay, and there are only three ways. There are no others.

"First is to keep at it; second, is to keep at it; third, is to keep at it."

Statistics recently gathered show that the cotton manufacturing industry of the South has enormously increased during the past five years. The number of spindles have more than doubled, and capital invested has been increased fully an hundred per cent. Practically every mill is paying good dividends to the stock holders, and the money paid out for labor has made many towns prosperous where poverty reigned supreme before. It is generally agreed that the South is the place for cotton mills. Aside from the fact that the raw material is here, we also have a climate better suited for the work than further north. We have more day-light to work in, goods can be made for less cost, and the operatives can live better on less pay than in any other part of the Union. In addition to these advantages we have the cheapest water power in the world, and enough of it to turn every pound of cotton grown into finished cloth. Under such conditions it must be that only money or energy is lacking to make this the centre of the cotton industry.

Experiment Farms.

Do you run an experimental farm? Of course you'll say "foolish question; you know I don't." But you ought to run one. The government experiments, the state experiments, and the experiments made by your neighbors will not do the good that some made by you would do you.

There are farmers in Coffee County who use very little commercial guano, and say they do not believe that using more will pay; and there are others who use three, four, five or more sacks per acre, and say that using lots of guano does pay. Every farmer should experiment and find out what pays best in the way of fertilizers. He should have different parts of his crop with different amounts of guano. He should have some that had guano put out on it when planted, and some that he puts it out on in June and July, and he should carefully watch the results at gathering time. By so doing he can tell what plan pays best for him.

The average pay of preachers in this county has been ascertained and is $650.00 a year. This would be fair pay if it was fairly distributed, but some few preachers draw princely salaries while many others have to live like paupers. We suppose, however, the business will be evenly adjusted in the hereafter.

Two Hundred Acres Oats.

Last week and this there is being cut on one Coffee County farm no less than two hundred acres of oats. The farm is that of Messrs W. B. and John Glenn, and it is the Riva's place, which they have leased for a term of years. The oats are being harvested by two reapers and binders. The dry weather during heading time has prevented the oats producing a full crop, yet the yield is large enough to pay. After the oats cotton is being planted.

Railroads-Electric.

Geneva, Ala.—Geneva & Enterprise Traction company is proceeding with plans to build electric railway from Geneva to Enterprise; agents are now at work securing the rights-of-way; stated that the road is to be built within 18 months and that none of the subscriptions are to be paid until road is completed and in operation; proposed to erect power plant on Double Bridge creek. Acreage is Increased.

Memphis, Tenn., May 29.—The Commercial-Appeal will publish tomorrow its first cotton crop report of the season. It follows: Reports from correspondents of The Commercial-Appeal under date of May 25, show that the acreage planted to cotton this spring exceeds that planted in 1909 about 3.3 per cent. It is estimated that 88 per cent of the total area had come up to a stand on this date, planting except in isolated instances being completed.

Between May 14 and May 22, rains fell in all cotton producing territory and were highly beneficial, although accompanied by abnormal low temperatures. What is needed now is warm, dry weather.

The land was prepared well and correspondents are of the opinion that the crop will grow very rapidly with warm weather, the moisture supply for the present being abundant. In all districts the crop improved materially during the week preceding May 25.

The cold weather of late April necessitated considerable replanting in the Atlantic States, Alabama and Louisiana, but this has been completed and most of the cotton is up, although in these States there are a few complaints of irregular stands.

Curtiss's From Albany.

New York, May 30.—Glen H. Curtiss, marvelous feat of aviation in flying from Albany to New York yesterday—137 miles in 152 minutes—compelled the attention of the entire world today. The flight from the state capital to Governors Island, just off the battery, breaks all speed records in aviation distance contests.

Mr. Curtiss rested quietly at his hotel today. He made it clear that he believed that still greater feats in flying would be accomplished.

Two stops were made on route, the first at Poughkeepsin and the second at Iawood, where the official landing was made. The aviator remained at Iawood over an hour and then proceeded to Governors Island. Between Albany and Iawood the biplane, the smallest that has ever figured in the greater aviation contests, made an average speed of 54 miles an hour. For minutes at a time it skimmed along at 60 miles an hour.

Curtiss' feat wins for him the $10,000 cash prize of the New York World.

Ecuador is Still Preparing to War.

Guayaquil, Ecuador, May 25.—Much surprise was caused by the publication today of a despatch from Luis Felipe Carbo, the Ecuadorian minister at Washington, in which he congratulated his country on the peaceful settlement of the trouble with Peru.

The public generally has understood that the attitude of Ecuador remains unchanged in view of the fact that Peru insists on the existence of a boundary award by Alfonso, and which, it is insisted here, would give to Peru a large portion of Ecuadorian territory.

If this government has agreed to submit the matter to the point arbitration of the United States, Brazil and Argentina, the facts are not generally known here.

Warlike preparations continue on both sides of the border. General Franco leaves to-night to assume command of the Ecuadorian forces on the frontier and the Red Cross ambulance is under orders to proceed to-night to Machal.
